
Authorities Budget Office Policy Guidance

No. 10-03

Date Issued: April 12, 2010

Supersedes: 07-04

Subject: Posting and Maintaining Reports on Public Authority Web Sites

Statutory Citation: Chapter 506 of the Laws of 2009

Provisions: Public Authorities Law, as amended in 2005 by the Public Authorities Accountability Act, requires state and local authorities to file specific financial and budgetary information with the ABO, as well as to report property transactions, debt issuances, and other information on their operations. Public authorities have been submitting these reports through the Public Authorities Reporting Information System (PARIS) and, to the extent practicable, posting the information on their official web sites. Information to be accessible on the authority's web site was to include its mission and current activities, its most recent annual financial reports, current year budget, its most recent independent audit report, and its investment and procurement guidelines.

The Public Authorities Reform Act of 2009 (Chapter 506) amended current law to require additional information be reported to the ABO and that all public authorities have an official web site or post this information on a shared web site.

Authorities Budget Office (ABO) Policy Guidance: The Authorities Budget Office (ABO) is committed to the principles of public disclosure and the transparent reporting of public authority financial and management information. Public authorities will continue to report using the Public Authorities Reporting Information System (PARIS), but now must also make specific information available to the public through the Internet.

To assist public authorities meet their disclosure and reporting obligations, the ABO has developed the attached checklist of policies, reports and authority information that public authorities must post and maintain on their web site.

This information is to be made available in a manner that enables the public to easily find and navigate through it. The failure to post this information on the web site and maintain its accuracy will be considered an act of non-compliance with state law and subject the authority to the sanctions and enforcement powers provided to the ABO by statute. If an authority does not have the resources to create and maintain its own web site, it should work with its sponsoring municipality to create a web page on the municipality's web site. The ABO expects public authorities to begin posting this information immediately.

Procedures for Retaining and Maintaining Information on Web Sites: The ABO will be routinely checking web sites to monitor compliance. Therefore the ABO recommends referring to the attached checklist for guidance. As a general rule, information that is likely to remain static should be permanently posted to the web site but updated as necessary. At least two years of budget, financial and operating information should also be available on the web site.

Public authorities should also consider the following when posting and maintaining documents to their web sites:

- Public authorities are responsible for the information posted on their web sites.
- The information provided must be reliable and complete.
- Web sites should be monitored and updated regularly and all links should function properly.
- Individuals should be able to navigate through the web site with ease and have little difficulty finding the desired information and documents.
- All documents should be prepared using common terminology that facilitates a better understanding of the content.

Policies for the Retention of Records: New York State has adopted rules and regulations that govern the retention and disposition of records. These rules require that, even after removing a record from its web site, a public authority must retain copies of all records, whether electronic or hard copy, for the stipulated time periods outlined in the schedules prepared by the State Archives. (Please refer to: www.archives.nysed.gov/a/records/index.shtml).

To ensure compliance with the policies of the New York State Archives, the ABO recommends that public authorities establish a records management program to promote efficient administration and management of the Authority's records. This involves maintenance, retention, and storage of official records based on their legal and administrative value to the authority. A record retention program would require public authorities to:

- Develop a records retention and disposition policy and ensure compliance by all staff.
- Ensure that authority records are maintained and disposed in compliance with regulations.
- Identify, protect, and preserve archival records.
- Establish a process to prepare and annually review and update the records management plan.
